Were the black Saturday bush fires enough?

February 11, 2009 by artsministries

Were the Victorian fires on black Saturday enough?

It is recorded in the Bible in 2 Tim 4:3 that "There is going to come a time when people won't listen to the truth, but will go about looking for teachers who will tell them just what they want to hear. They won't listen to what the Bible says, but will blithely follow their own ideas." [Living Bible]

Danny Nalliah of "Catch The Fire Ministries" warned the people of Victoria around October last year that a fire was coming of great destruction that would be the result of the Victorian Government's Abortion legislation. Not enough people of any importance took the slightest bit of notice.

As we now begin to weep over what is left of the destruction and rotting blackened corpses of the masses of people who died whilst attempting to escape the "inferno from hell" last Saturday, dragged from under heaps of rubbish and burnt iron that was once their homes, I wonder how many tears are being shed over the masses of babies who are still being murdered on a daily basis in government-sponsored abortion slaughter houses?

Do we think we can go on continuing to spit in God's face with immunity? It appears so!

“For,” [as we read in the text above,] “there is going to come a time when people won’t listen any more to the truth.”

It looks like the year 2009 as predicted, is shaping up as a year of crisis, despair, and worldwide implosion on many fronts. Will we begin to listen to the warnings of God or continue in the God- rejecting direction we are now on?” I have no hesitation in assuming it will be the latter. We had best prepare ourselves for other “black Saturdays” that are just on the horizon.

When will the clock stop?

January 13, 2009 by artsministries

I received a phone call this afternoon from a lady wanting me to go into a retirement village. I told her I didn't need one, the only village I was heading for is the one that God has prepared for me [its called heaven] and the quicker I fell off the perch and went there, the better.

She was appalled at my flippancy toward such serious matters as dying. She said that she did not believe in heaven or hell and that she reads the Bible but that “you can't really believe all that it says.” Then I asked her was she aware of the volatile situation the world was in and that it could blow up or end at any moment. She said yes she was. I asked her “Doesn't it worry you that you are not ready” to which she replied “Yes.”

I then asked her if she wanted to know how to be ready for what was surely to come upon the world and to be ready for her own death when it came, and she simply said “No!” I tried to calculate in my mind the reason for this woman's response which was incredible when you stop to think about it. These are the reasons I came up with.

1.The Church and individual Christians have lost the power they once had to effectively lead people to Christ. 2.As we are living in the Laodicean period of Revelation and the prophecy of the period of a “cold Church” is now upon us, one can only expect the response of zombies from those to whom we discuss matters of eternity.3. Satan has done such a meticulous job of blinding the eyes of the lost they are now incapable of taking the necessary steps to save themselves when help is offered.

This one thing I have learnt from this experience. When the people know that they are in danger and choose to ignore God's warning signs, it must surely be the time when God is about to stop his time piece and pour his wrath out upon a vile and perverse generation. Whilst he clearly says he is not willing that any should go to hell, what is the point of giving the world more time to repent when they refuse to? I truly believe the end is almost upon us.

A painful tale

January 8, 2009 by artsministries

It is only a week into the new year but I'm into my 125th straight day of severe pain. Yesterday was the worst day I've had and it proved that the morphine-strength new tablets the Dr put me on were as about as useful as a packet of jelly beans. Why indeed does God allow all this pain in our lives and the obstacles that we can't seem to get over that impede our Christian growth so much?

Well most of them are put there to increase our Christian growth! God chastens the ones he loves-that's the way it is and if Jesus had to learn obedience by suffering, how much more does that apply to us? He tells us in 1 Peter 1:6 that we are to be tried with fire that we might come forth as pure gold. There will be no pansies in heaven, only those who have withstood the test of faith and who have overcome the trials set before them. Without faith it is impossible to please God. Did you hear that?

God is not a sadist, he knows how much we can, and cannot take. One day soon I trust he will give you a surprise like he gave me yesterday in the midst of my terrible pain. I got up with a new step in my soul, picked up the old guitar that I had not played for far too long and began to belt out the old chorus "This is the day that the Lord hath made and I will rejoice and be glad in it." Then I went up to a mate's place and we got before the Lord and we prayed and we wept. Then I went to the local hospital for some scans, I challenged the 3 people sitting in the waiting room with me of how little time the world has left. I frightened the living day lights out of them, then gave them a tract each telling them how to get to glory which they gladly took.

Later in the day I received a very important email from a political contact in Canberra that may open up wonderful doors of opportunity for my service in the Lord. Other emails came telling me of the love other brothers and sisters had for me. The Word tells us to "Be still and know that I am God." I ask you today to be still for a little while and contemplate the real values in life. God is in charge and he has a plan for your life. It may hurt along the way but take heart, he is not finished with any of us until the day of the glorious appearing of his blessed Son.

Its time to wake up

January 2, 2009 by artsministries

This will not be a happy new year for millions of people in the coming year. There will be many slit throats, crushed skulls and body parts at the hands of religious fanatical maniacs who blow people to bits for their so-called god and who intend to conquer the world by blood letting, all driven by the powers from hell.

There will be no feature picture on my post today, instead there will be a website that I encourage you to study in the finest detail. It is a horrifying and graphic description of where this world is headed under the threat of Islamic terror extremism and what effect Islam is having on a dopey, irresponsible, blase, and capitulating Western civilization. Any Muslim who will not give up their devotion to the Koran is a co-conspirator because the Koran is a book of slaughter where it is considered the done thing to behead a woman who has claimed to have been raped whilst the male perpetrator goes free. It is a book that promotes the slaughter of innocents, and that happens to be you and me.

The extreme Muslim hatred is aimed at American "pigs" and "monkeys" and all other nations who do not bow to the evil moon god Allah who has nothing to do with the Christian God of love and tolerance. Muslims are taking over the world like a rapidly spreading cancer and are being ably assisted and abetted by the U.N. and the Western media who all appear to point the finger at Israel as being the instigator of the Middle East conflict when nothing could be further from the truth.

It is a pity the moderate muslims who do not promote violence could emulate their sanctimonious and religious standards of so-called purity and self-righteousness by setting the same example when they tread in the face of other cultures and nations who have taken them in as migrants by their acts of forcing their way of life upon others and exploiting to the full social services and other hand outs that they take for granted and demand as a right.

Read this website at your own peril-then you will have been clearly warned what is heading our way. It won't be any happy new year, and you can take that to the bank. <http://terrorismawareness.org>

Tractor tricks.

December 31, 2008 by artsministries

Seeing that this is the first day of the new year, I look back on the past few years and wonder what nearly wasn't. It nearly wasn't many times in my life but this was about the closest and the most sudden. The old farming mate who later drove his tractor down to pull my tractor onto its feet muttered to me in his farmer's drawl as he shook his head, "You never walk away from one of these." A split second before my tractor crashed over backwards onto the ground I was underneath it and my intestines were just about to exit from my ears .

The chain can be seen at the rear of the tractor that was attached to a post that flipped the tractor over backwards.

I felt very pressured one day in a mental hospital where I was working as a Charge Nurse to challenge the Medical Superintendent as to whether he was going to heaven or to hell. Religion and psychiatry just dont mix because daddy Freud was a weirdo and was the father of atheism and godlessness. Any endeavour to talk to a psychiatrist about God was a pretty good way to get yourself certified and locked up. But the pressure God was putting on me would not relent so I said to God, "Alright God, I will challenge him on the condition that he walks in the front door of this ward within an hour."

I rang the main office to see where the M.S. was and dicovered he was 40 miles away visiting Cessnock jail. There was no way he was going to walk in my front door within the hour and I sighed a great sigh of releief. It was good in this case that God got it all wrong. I only imagined he was talking to me.

Within 45 minutes I heard someone coming in the front door and it was the M.S. His arrival was nothing less than a miracle and I had to keep my part of the bargain with God. I sat him down and told him how to get to heaven. I never got certified and locked up. We serve a living God, a God of miracles and we need to have a relationship with him. The same God that made me speak to that M.S. is the same one that got me out from under that tractor before it crushed the life out of me. Do you know him in a personal way?

Happy new year? Maybe!

December 30, 2008 by artsministries

Tomorrow is new year's eve 2008 and the boys are seen here baling hay on my farm. Whilst Melbourne under the Christless leadership of the Brumby State government is whipping its hapless population into party mode for New Year's Eve, there is no party going on in the Middle East as Israel again begins to rock the foundations of international peace, and not without just cause.

The boys cutting and baling the hay remind me of the old favourite hymn "Bringing in the sheaves." That of course was a paradoxical hymn referring to the winning of lost souls. Whilst baling hay today is a breeze compared to the erection of hay stacks with pitch forks and the sweat of yesteryear, and the bringing in of modern hay sheaves is a far easier task than it once was, the bringing in of the 'sheaves' of lost souls in the modern era is a much more difficult task.

At least a million souls in Melbourne on New Year's Eve will be preparing for their ride into hell. Galatians chapter 5 enumerates the pre requisites for such a journey and they include, drunkenness, partying, and revellings, "and those that do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God." The end of the present age of the world is predicted in the Bible as occurring in Israel in a massive final world war. Right at this present moment the clock is ticking as Israel sticks its chin out once again to protect itself from Palestinian rockets and against the overwhelming odds of Russia, China, Iran, and the surrounding Muslim nations all of whom want Israel destroyed.

And whilst this crisis is confronting us, the medics in Melbourne are preparing for a massive onslaught of drug over doses from a conglomerate of self-indulgent half wits who seem hell bent on destroying themselves raging the night away under the guidance and sanction of an equally witless government. For the world in general, it may not be a happy new year at all.

I received a website from a mate in Holland yesterday. Click on it below, then click on Jimmy Carter's face. It is proof of what the world is trying to do to God's people Israel, it is clear proof that Biblical prophecy has come to pass, and it is also proof that our opulent, selfish, and destructive partying days are almost over.

Me worried? no fear!!

December 30, 2008 by artsministries

This is a picture of my beautiful daughter Suzie [on the right] the day she was baptized having emerged from a world of drugs, abuse, and hell. With her is my ex daughter-in-law Cora. We found my daughter dead on the floor of her unit when we walked in for a days picnic a few years ago. The doctor told me the other day that my tests revealed that I was a hopeless case and intimated that I needed to get friendly with the local undertaker. I was thrilled to think that I would possibly be seeing my daughter again soon. Of that fact I had no doubts.

When I went in to see the Dr, I deliberately laid an article I had written on his table titled "My Last Will and Testament" [see "X-Ray" in right hand column] and covered it up with a large envelope so he could not see it. I had taken it with me to proof read in the waiting room whilst waiting to see the Dr. After he had given me the wonderful news that I was a hopeless case I got up and walked to the door. The Dr said "Do you want something signed?" I asked him what he was talking about. "That will," he said, "Do you want me to sign it?"

I told him it was not a will, it was an article that I had written about death, cancer, demons, eternal life and the salvation that God so freely offers to us. When I blurted all this out in about a minute and a half, I thought he would tell me I was mad. Instead he shook my hand and said, "I know exactly what you are talking about."

How he saw that "will" I will never know, but that's the way God works, Now I have a medical witness should God heal me.
